Students develop their analytical and critical skills as regards documents and discussions. Emphasis is placed on developing their written and verbal communication skills and on using tools effectively. Graduates of this training programme are proficient in a wide range of expertise: - knowledge on historical issues from Antiquity to the present day, from a political, social, economic or religious point of view; - concrete and rigorous methods in individual work (documentary research and source-based investigations); - an introduction to career plans; - knowledge of historical issues; - expertise in terms of data analysis and summary communication.

YOUR FUTURE CAREER

According to the survey conducted by the OFIPE, 85% of students continue their studies after the Licence. 81% of those who enrolled on a Master's degree course obtained a two-year postgraduate qualification. Students on this pathway go on to do the Master's in Careers in Teaching, Education and Training for primary or secondary schools in order to prepare for the competitive examination for primary, middle school or secondary school teachers. It is also possible to choose another Master's degree, such as those offered at Université Gustave Eiffel.

BENEFITS OF THE PROGRAM

After a multi-disciplinary first year (geography, history, sociology) and gradual specialisation from the second year, the L3 History Education pathway provides general training in history and skill sets to prepare students fully for a career in teaching. Students planning to take the primary teacher recruitment examination (CRPE) are offered a pre-professional training course and teaching methodology courses in history and geography as well as courses in mathematics and French. Students planning to take the CAPES (secondary school teaching certificate) are offered a pre-professional training course and courses in historiography, epistemology and history of education, as well as training for the oral part of the competitive examination.
